Presidents Report

Hi all

Just returned from the Nationals in Fremantle WA and what a great Nationals it was! Run perfectly by the Corvette Club of WA and well supported by the contingent from the Corvette Club of South Australia. I think that they thought it was a take over due to the number from our club attending! Congratulations to our trophy winners Peter Bartlett (Best Original C3) Alan Litchfield (runner up Original C3) and taking out the charities choice trophy as well (making 2 for Alan) Dave Nitschke (runner up Original C5) and yours truly for the hard luck award (apparently for putting up with Catherine all the way over – according to Stuart).

I know that USA has Route 66 but the run Adelaide to Perth on National highway 1 is just as good and to do it with a group is just fantastic, I can see another run to the West happening, just because we can.

We ran into the Mustang club on the way over and was having a wonderful dinner at the Ceduna hotel until the Jarrett name was brought up and then the fight started – never saw them again!

Jim has a book coming out apparently, similar to the “Bush Mechanic”, his bush version of the fuel gauge is very technical and hints on how you can run your car without an alternator will make for riveting reading.

Great run, great Nationals and most important great company, bring on Queensland next Easter.

Happy Vetting.

Pres.

Adventure to the West!

This year's Australian Corvette Nationals were hosted by the Corvette Club of Western Australia in Fremantle.

A good number of SA members decided this was a trip worth doing so we all started to work out our individual ways of getting to the West to attend.

Much planning went into this well before Easter so we all could leave with the attitude of - What could possibly go wrong?

Ruth & I only got our car back from getting the once over at the mechanics the night before leaving. This left no time for a shake down run so with crossed fingers, we packed the beer fridge, a couple of tools and a few jocks and socks. Not much else fitted but we did prioritise!

Early meet up at Bolivar with Jim and Catherine and then Rob a little down the road. We were set for a great couple of weeks.

That afternoon we made it to Ceduna where we crossed paths with members of the Mustang Club who were also heading West. We enjoyed a few laughs and wished them well on their trip.

Next morning, we only had a short run to Border Village. During this leg, a somewhat amusing (for some) thing happened! The previous fuel stop, Jim's car required far less petrol than Rob's or ours which left me trying to convince Ruth that we now needed a supercharged C4 motor installed. All was sweet until 20kms out of Border Village and Jim suddenly loses power and comes to a very silent halt on the side of the road. (This is where we were hoping the Mustangs were in front of us and wouldn't witness our little dilemma). As we looked under the bonnet scratching our heads on what could be the issue here, Jim decided to check the fuel level through the filler as the gauge had started to play up. Sure enough – one fuel tank was bone dry. While I stayed back to 'protect' the girl's ☺, Jim & Rob shot into Border Village to buy the world's most expensive jerry can and 20 litres of juice and all was good again.

We arrived in Border Village where we had a practice run through the Western Australian fruit checking station, before dropping the usual U turn to drive back into SA, as this is where our accommodation actually was for the night. Not long after settling down with a drink at our cabins that AJ & Julie turned up. The planets hadn't quite aligned for these guys so at the 11th hour they decided to leave the '54 home and come in the Crewman – Oh, and they were carrying spare fuel!

Next morning, off we set for Norseman, WA. Once we got past the Fruit Nazi's at the checking station, we settled in for a big days drive only broken when the Nullarbor Nymph was spotted at Eucla. Besides now wearing jeans and a CCSA T shirt, she still looks wild.

While having brekkie next morning at Norseman, the second group of cars from SA rolled up. Now we had Dave & Karen, Dale, Peter B, Alan and Rudi & Kaye join us for the run into Kalgoorlie.

Kalgoorlie was interesting but the stand out attraction was a visit to the Super Pit gold mine. Hooley Dooley that hole was big. Cannot express it in words, but definitely worth a look when in town. That night, everyone but AJ & Julie (who wanted to eat at a nudie pub apparently) had dinner out on a balcony in one of the grand old hotels in the main street. Enjoyed a few cold beers, great food and even better company. A superb night.

Next day, some of the group stayed back in town for a Super Pit mine tour while the rest of us headed off to Perth and surrounds for a couple of days R&R before the Nationals started. Besides almost causing a multi car pile-up on the freeway when I found myself in the wrong lane and trying to squeeze in front of AJ with car horns blasting from all sides, we had a nice trip down to friends at Busselton. Thanks for letting me in AJ!

Come Friday, everyone converged on the Trade Winds Motel at Fremantle which was the base for the Nationals. Mel & Goof turned up leaving a trail of sweat through the foyer (Bloody C4 air-conditioning) and headed straight for the shower. John & Jenny, Laurie and Margaret and Peter & Wendy were already there. The bottom line is, we all made it there safely.

Meet & Greet that night was a friendly affair except for when some Nuf-Nuf dropped a full pint glass covering me in glass and beer. Some people!!

Saturday morning, we cleaned and fired up the cars and all headed off for the Show n Shine in Perth's Supreme Courts Gardens. A beautiful location in the city plus Perth turned on perfect weather. The West Australian guys were well organised with the parking and the judging which made for a relaxing day for the rest of us.

That night, we walked down to nearby wharf where we boarded a Dinner Boat for our evening meal while cruising the Swan River. Great atmosphere and a great vibe, everyone mixed, enjoyed great food and had another superb night.

Sunday, was a cruise up into the Perth Hills. Not that dissimilar to the Adelaide Hills. First to a winery complex for morning tea, and then onto lunch at a huge Garden venue. From there, we all found our own way back to Fremantle.

The gala dinner and trophy presentations were held that night at the Trade Winds. Again, well organised, great speeches and a comical spill from the Queensland guys to promote next years Nationals being held at the Gold Coast.

The South Aussies could hold their heads up high here. Peter B's car took out Best C3 Original. Alan L took out 2nd in C3 Original. Alans car also took out the Charity / Sponsors Overall Choice award which was absolutely awesome, Dave N took out Best C5 Original and I think Rob took out – not sure, but I think it was for the Fastest Corvette Original. That may be a little inaccurate but my memory is fading.

WELL DONE GUYS.

Need to make a special note here regarding the West Australian Nationals committee and the West Australians Vettors in general. They were so welcoming, organised and a great bunch of people that it made it an absolute pleasure for all of us attending. We had no regrets what so ever in making the trek over. Loved every bit of it.

Anyway, it wasn't over here. The WA Club also organised a post Nationals cruise down to the states South Coast and back up to Perth for anyone that wanted to come along. This was a great idea and from all accounts, a great success. Saying that, us and Jim & Catherine toured the South coast separately as we were driving the cars back home and this worked better for us. We crossed paths with the organised group (We were the unorganised group!!) at the Valley of the Giants forest and tree walk. Farewelled everyone and we were off again.

Gotta say, touring the WA South Coast in the Vettes was awesome. Particularly, the Albany and Esperance coastline. Add it to your bucket list.

6400 kilometres later, we rolled back into Adelaide with our 40 year old C3 and Jim and Catherine in their 33 year old battery powered supercharged C4 after having one of the best Corvette adventures you could wish for. Two weeks of great times, plenty of laughs and the best of friends.

Article by S van Doorn, Photos by A Litchfield and others!

Stay tuned for next month to hear all about the Post Nationals Cruise!

APRIL AUTUMN RUN

Well Sunday morning definitely had an autumnal feel about it with light drizzle as we made our way to Tea Tree Plaza ready for the day ahead.

A small group of dedicated members weren't put off by the wet weather and after a quick coffee we were all ready to hit the road. Given the windy weather the day before we thought it would be wise to take things a bit cautiously as we didn't know how many tree branches etc would be strewn over the roads.

4 Corvettes and 2 other cars set off towards Chain of Ponds before cutting across to Forreston then back towards Birdwood and then on to Lobethal. Unfortunately the views which can usually be seen from these roads were non-existent due to the cloud but it was still a nice drive through the hills.

Our first stop was at the Woodside Heritage Centre where we all filed into Melbas Chocolate Factory to have a look and try out the free samples.

Seems Debbie must be preparing for the zombie apocalypse as she was seen carrying out a year's supply of liquorice! We then moved across to the Woodside Cheese Wrights where we got to taste lots of different styles of cheese and spreads etc.

The time came to hit the road again as we took the scenic route through to Verdun to our lunch destination at the Stanley Bridge Tavern. The pub was very busy and we were forced to do the obligatory U-turn in the carpark as it was full.

The rest of the run was spent in the usual manner, a good feed, a couple of quiet drinks and a nice chat with our fellow club members.

Thanks to everyone who made the effort to come out for the day we hope you all enjoyed it!!

Cheers, Breck & Helen Falconer

SEAN'S RANDOM RAMBLINGS—#3

Being in the corvette modifying game (on an extremely non-professional basis) means a lot of time on the American car forums, such as corvetteforum.com and being subjected to the American culture along the way.

The country that has brought us the Corvette since 1953 and en-pooored our lives really is a place of craziness and contradictions. Our news feeds are full of daily reports on the US of A, and whatever crazy stuff is going on with them. In contrast, most members of the Corvette club have been to the USA and thoroughly enjoyed the country and the American people.

The U.S. seems to be a country that is always divided inside of itself. You are either pro gun or anti gun, pro Democrat or pro Republican and Left wing or Right wing. The culture seems to be, you are either with me, or your my enemy ! There has been a saying that has been around quite a while, "only in America !"

If you look at American history you can get an insight into how this culture developed, as soon as the new Americans arrived from Europe they went to war with the Indians, ultimately to take their land. Shortly after they went to war with the mother country Britain in the war of Independence, ultimately to take control of the country that Britain had established. They then went to war with each other in the Civil War, some say it was an anti slavery war, some say it was about financial control of the country – depends on which side you were on I guess. Then there was the 'acquisition' of Texas which was originally Mexico territory then the Mexican war in which New Mexico became another US state. And somewhere in all that they decided that the "right to bear arms" should be included in the Constitution, and we all know where that has ended up. All of this occurred in the early history of this new country.

The USA has gone on to become the Industrial and Military powerhouse of the world, so the influence of their country on everyone else, including Australia cant be underestimated. If you doubt that think back to the Global Financial Crisis around 06/07 to understand how financial greed ended up with Australian house prices falling and Insurance rates for everything rocketing up around the whole globe. The situation was only resolved when the American government paid off the debts of some of the largest companies (GM being one) and Banking corporations in the USA. The individuals involved were allowed to walk away scot free, the biggest penalty for them was losing their job.

It is a country that seems to stumble from one crisis to another, while the world watches in bemusement. Mass shootings that occur on an almost daily basis are one, school shootings that horrify the world, yet the American people are powerless to stop it. Hard to imagine for Australians who had sweeping gun control measures brought in almost overnight in 1996 after the last mass Australian shooting at Pt Arthur, and have never had a mass shooting since. The whole world takes to social media to ask the Americans how can they stop it, but they defend their 2nd amendment right to bear arms. Nearly 50% of the privately owned guns in the world are owned by Americans.

The election of Donald Trump as president and the Republican party (right wing) taking over the government has certainly resulted in a whole lot more craziness, and doesn't the media lap it up and keep us informed all day, every day. The FBI being used to investigate allegations that the president had sex with a porn star, and then she was 'pawnd off' with a few bucks, brings back memories of Bill Clinton doesn't it ? Best thing to do is just sack the FBI Director, oh wait, that hasn't ended up so good, another crisis !

And I guess the best we can hope for is that in amongst all this turmoil and crisis is that the Corvette brand never gets killed off, remember Pontiac ?
